

ISMC112 Organization and Management Concepts

Course Description

This is an introductory course that aims to develop students to be effective managers and leaders in an organizational setting. The course revolves along topics that lead to understanding organizations and organizational processes. Case studies are given to help students know how concepts are practically applied in the real world. The topics that are covered in this course are principles of organization, system thinking approach, formal and informal organizations, forms of business ownership, organizational culture, organization structure, functional areas in the organization, managerial skills, theories of management, functions of management, and levels of management

Module Topic
1. Introduction to Organization and Management 2. Principles of organization 3. Principles of Management
4. Types of Organization 5. Forms of business ownership
6. Organizational structure 7. Organizational Functional Areas 8. Organizational Culture
9. The organization and Its Environment 10. Systems Thinking as applied in Management
11. Theories on Management a. Scientific Management Theory b. Bureaucratic Management Theory c. Human Relations Theories d. Systems Theory
12. Developing Managerial Skills 13. Levels of Management
14. Functions of Management a. Planning b. Organizing c. Leading d. Controlling